Publisher description	Ai-bilder på menyn? NEJ TACK!!!🤖 Lite annorlunda video från mig, men tycker det är ändå angeläget att ta upp denna fråga! Jag tycker det är synd att fler och fler restauranger väljer att ta till sig ai för att generera bilder som ska representera maträtter på menyn. Det ser illa ut och jag blir bara ledsen. ‼️ Detta är inte ett påhopp mot enskilda restauranger eller att man ska bojkotta hit och dit, jag tror inte på sånt. Utan ni vet att jag står för matglädje & inspiration. Så detta är mer min åsikt och pepp till att våga behålla det äkta, autentiska! Skippa ai så blir det bättre🥰 Vad tycker ni? PÖSS!❤️

4.2 Reel caption: English translation (written for this book)

> AI images on the menu? NO THANKS!!! 🤖
>
> A bit of a different video from me, but I still think it’s important to raise this issue! I think it’s a shame that more and more restaurants are choosing to use AI to generate the images that are supposed to represent the dishes on the menu. It looks bad and it just makes me sad.
>
> ‼️ This is not an attack on individual restaurants or a call to boycott this place or that, I don’t believe in that. You know I stand for the joy of food and inspiration. So this is more my opinion and some encouragement to dare to keep things genuine and authentic! Skip the AI and it’ll be better 🥰 What do you think?

> PÖSS! (“kisses”) ❤️

4.3 Spoken transcript, English (from the archive)

English transcript

Okay, we need to talk.

Lately, I've been walking around town and seeing menus. And on these menus, there are no longer real photos of food. More and more of them are AI-generated. This has to stop.

I understand that sometimes you use AI because you can't afford a photographer. But the problem is, it doesn't look good. I mean, it just doesn't.

So I'm saying this to all of Sweden—to all the wonderful restaurateurs out there: If you feel the need to AI-generate an image, just skip it. It looks so much better—real and authentic—without those AI images.

Have you noticed more AI-generated images? Comment if you're tired of them too, because this has to stop.

That's it.

Translation note: Timings were generated with the multilingual Whisper small model. The English wording was manually corrected against the Swedish transcript for obvious recognition and translation errors.

4.4 Spoken transcript, German (from the archive)

Deutsches Transkript

Okay, wir müssen reden.

In letzter Zeit bin ich durch die Stadt gelaufen und habe Speisekarten gesehen. Auf diesen Speisekarten gibt es keine echten Fotos vom Essen mehr. Immer mehr davon sind KI-generiert. Das muss aufhören.

Ich verstehe, dass man manchmal KI benutzt, weil man sich keinen Fotografen leisten kann. Aber das Problem ist: Es sieht nicht gut aus. Ich meine, wirklich nicht.

Deshalb sage ich jetzt ganz Schweden – all den tollen Gastronomen da draußen: Wenn ihr ein Bild mit KI erzeugen wollt, lasst es lieber ganz. Ohne diese KI-Bilder wirkt alles viel besser – echt und authentisch.

Habt ihr auch mehr KI-generierte Bilder bemerkt? Seid ihr sie auch leid? Kommentiert es. Das muss aufhören.

Das war's.

4.6 What the video shows (visual description written for this book)

Jenny Frennberg (“Stockholm Food Gems”) walks and talks on a sunny Stockholm street lined with restaurants, outdoor seating, bicycles and parked vans. She wears a black leather jacket over a brown buttoned top and a clip-on microphone. The video carries a title overlay, “AI-bilder måste upphöra!!!” (“AI images must stop!!!”), and burned-in Swedish captions. Around 0:05–0:09 it cuts to a close-up example: a restaurant poster headed “MALATANG – Nu på buffén!” (“Malatang – now at the buffet!”) with a generated image of a bowl of red spicy broth containing meat, noodles, potato and greens. Its text reads “Välj dina råvaror · Vi tillagar dem i kryddig buljong · Serveras varmt & starkt” (“Choose your ingredients · We cook them in spicy broth · Served hot & spicy”) and is signed “Mandarin …”.

Swedish on-screen captions seen in sampled frames (with English):
